

1. Name

SIGNIS: the World Catholic Association for Communication is a public international association of the faithful regulated by canons 298-320 and 327-329 of the Code of Canon Law whose statutes have been approved by the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life.

SIGNIS will collaborate regularly with the Secretariat of State in matters concerning its activities in relation to international organisations.

2. Registered Office

- 2.1. The Registered Office of the Association is in Fribourg, Switzerland. (Rue de Lausanne, 86, C.P. 271, 1701 Fribourg).
- 2.2. The Association has an Administrative Office in Rome, Italy.
- 2.3. The Registered Office and/or the administrative office may be transferred to any other location or country by a decision of the Assembly of Delegates passed by two thirds of the votes.
Any Transfer of the Registered Office must be notified to the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life.

3. Objectives of SIGNIS

- 3.1. Nature. SIGNIS is a world Catholic association of groups and individuals engaged in communication and media who, inspired by the teachings of Jesus Christ, have as their goal the promotion of the personal, social and cultural life of each human being and the community.
- 3.2. The objectives of the Association are:
 - 3.2.1. To promote a Christian understanding of the importance of human communication in all cultures.
 - 3.2.2. To engage in activities which motivate and encourage participation in the betterment of the communications environment on the basis of Christian values.
 - 3.2.3. To be open to and promote ecumenical and inter-religious collaboration in communication activities.

- 3.2.4. To promote communication policies that respect Christian values, justice and human rights.
- 3.2.5. To foster dialogue with communication professionals on moral, spiritual and professional issues.
- 3.2.6. To participate in the formation of public opinion based on sound ethical and spiritual values.
- 3.2.7. To support media education at all levels.
- 3.2.8. To participate in the world forums of communication.
- 3.2.9. To facilitate mutual support among the members through dialogue and professional development.
- 3.2.10. To represent Catholic media in different governmental or non-governmental organisations and institutions.

4. Members

- 4.1. The Association "SIGNIS" is made up of members with voting rights, respecting the conditions mentioned in article 4.1.1, and hereafter called "the members". It may associate for the realisation of its objectives, institutions or persons without voting rights, responding to the criteria of article 4.1.2, and hereafter called "the associates".
 - 4.1.1. Are eligible to be members of SIGNIS, with voting rights:
 - a) National Catholic associations for communication duly recognised by the Bishops' Conference, normally one per country. On the basis of a proposal made by the Board of Directors, the Assembly of Delegates can make exceptions for countries where the Bishops' Conference has recognised the need for more than one national association. This Assembly can also decide, according to specific circumstances, to replace the notion of "country" in the political sense with that of "territory" or "region".
 - b) International Catholic organisations for communication, active in several countries, which pursue similar goals to SIGNIS. The number of members is unlimited, but may not be less than three.
 - 4.1.2. Can be associates of SIGNIS, without voting rights:
 - a) Communication institutions, active in a country or part of a country, linked with a National association for communication, which pursue goals similar to those of SIGNIS in their activities.
 - b) Individuals active in the area of communication, linked with a National association for communication and who pursue goals similar to those of SIGNIS.
 - c) Under the title of honorary members, individuals who are or have been active in the area of communication, who pursue or have pursued the goals of SIGNIS, and have been invited to be associates by the Assembly of Delegates, following recommendation from the Board of Directors.

- 4.2. The admission of new members and new associates is within the competence of the Assembly of Delegates, following recommendation from the Board of Directors.
- 4.3. The Board of Directors can admit members or associates, with their provisory title, between the meetings of the Assembly of Delegates, as long as the conditions set out in articles, 4.1.1 and 4.1.2 are fulfilled.
- 4.4. Any member may resign from the Association by indicating their resignation by letter to the President six months before the end of the current financial year.
- 4.5. A member or an associate can lose their status by a decision of the Assembly of Delegates if, after giving the member or associate an opportunity to provide an explanation, and after written notification, the member does not meet the required conditions as set out in articles 4.1.1, 4.1.2 and 4.6. The vote is by two thirds majority of the delegates present or represented.
- 4.6. Members pay an annual fee. The Assembly of the Delegates fixes the amount of this fee. The Assembly of Delegates also fixes the financial participation of the associates.
- 4.7. A member or an associate (or their legal successors or heirs) who, for whatever reason, ceases to be a member of SIGNIS, has no right to funds and cannot claim any reimbursement of fees.
- 4.8. Members and associates do not incur any personal liability by reason of their belonging to the Association.
- 4.9. However, they undertake to avoid any activity harming the reputation of SIGNIS or any member or associates. The Board of Directors can suspend members or associates who cause such harm, after having given the member or associate an opportunity to provide an explanation.

5. National structures

- 5.1. Each national association is constituted by people, institutions and organisations from the same country (or territory, cf. 4.1.1.)
- 5.2. Each national association is organised autonomously by its members, but in accordance with the statutes and by-laws of SIGNIS.

6. Recognition of Regional Groupings

- 6.1. The national associations that are members of SIGNIS, whether they be accepted provisionally or definitely, shall group themselves together on a regional basis.
- 6.2. Each regional group is represented at the Assembly of Delegates by six delegates (or their substitutes) elected through the Regional Assembly.
- 6.3. Each sub-region is represented at the Assembly of Delegates by one delegate (or substitute) elected through the Regional Assembly.
- 6.4. The internal arrangements of the regional structures are the concern of the national associations forming the group, provided these arrangements are in accordance with the statutes and by-laws of SIGNIS.

7. Structure for International Organisations

- 7.1. International Organisations, which are members of SIGNIS, form a distinct group that elects six delegates (and their substitutes) who represent them at the Assembly of Delegates.

8. World Structures

On a world level, the decision-making bodies of SIGNIS are the following:

1. The Assembly of Delegates.
2. The Board of Directors.

9. The Assembly of Delegates

9.1. Authority

- 9.1.1. The Assembly of Delegates is the supreme authority of SIGNIS

9.2. Composition

The Assembly of Delegates is composed of:

- 9.2.1. The President of SIGNIS.
- 9.2.2. The two Vice-Presidents.
- 9.2.3. The Ecclesiastical Assistant
- 9.2.4. The six delegates of each regional group, the delegate of each sub-region and the six delegates from the group of international organisations.

9.3. The Secretary General attends the Assembly of Delegates but without voting rights.

9.4. The General Treasurer attends the Assembly of Delegates but without voting rights.

9.5. Delegation and Voting Rights

- 9.5.1. Delegates can be represented at the Assembly of Delegates by their substitutes or by another delegate with a written document of delegation (proxy). Each delegate can represent only one absent delegate.
- 9.5.2. The Assembly of Delegates cannot validly deliberate unless 50% of its delegates are present or represented, with the exception of amending the statutes, where two-thirds of the delegates must be present or represented.
- 9.5.3. The decisions of the Assembly of Delegates are taken through a simple majority vote of all present or represented delegates, except where Canon Law, the statutes or the by-laws stipulate otherwise.

9.6. Competence

The Assembly of Delegates has full power except for matters set out in articles 9.6.1 and 9.6.2.

- 9.6.1. Changes concerning the name of the Association (article 1), its nature and objectives (article 3), the different types of members or associates (article 4.1), the competence of the Assembly of Delegates (article 9.6), require the agreement of the Assembly of Delegates and ratification by a vote of all members, in each case observing the type of voting majority required by these statutes.
- 9.6.2. The Dissolution of the Association must be decided in an Extraordinary Assembly of all members (cf. Art. 12) and is subject to the competency of the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life under canon 320.

The Assembly of Delegates has the following powers:

- 9.6.3. To accept new members or associates.
- 9.6.4. To approve the existence and the formation of regional and sub-regional groups.
- 9.6.5. To approve the financial reports and the annual budgets and to discharge the directors in respect of their duties carried out in their term of office.
- 9.6.6. To elect for a term of four years the President who is eligible for only one further term of four years.
- 9.6.7. To elect for a term of four years the two Vice-Presidents who are eligible for only one further term of four years.
- 9.6.8. To elect for a term of four years the Secretary General who is eligible for only one further term of four years.
- 9.6.9. To elect for a term of four years the General Treasurer who is eligible for only one further term of four years. This mandate begins and ends one year after an Assembly of Delegates.
- 9.6.10. To confirm for a term of four years the members of the Board of Directors who are eligible for only one further term of four years.
- 9.6.11. To adopt the reports of the Board of Directors and of the General Secretariat since the previous Assembly of Delegates.
- 9.6.12. To define the activities of the Board of Directors (taking into account the powers of the Board listed in art. 10.6.) and of the various working committees appointed by the Assembly of Delegates and/or the Board.
- 9.6.13. To approve and/or modify the Statutes, with modifications under art. 9.6.1, also requiring ratification in a vote put to all members.
- 9.6.14. To approve and/or modify the by-laws of the Association with a majority of two-thirds of the votes of the present or represented delegates.
- 9.6.15. To fix the annual fees of the members and the participation costs of the associates, based on the advice of the Board of Directors and with respect for the by-laws.

9.7. Decisions and Resolutions

- 9.7.1. Except in the special cases mentioned in the present statutes, the decisions of the Assembly of Delegates are taken through a simple majority vote of the delegates present or represented.
- 9.7.2. No vote can be taken on matters that are not on the agenda except by a two thirds majority vote of all the delegates present or represented. Each proposal signed by twenty per cent (one fifth) of the members or delegates and notified by letter to the Board of Directors three months before the Assembly of Delegates has to be placed on the agenda.
- 9.7.3. The resolutions of the Assembly of Delegates are noted in a record book signed by the President and the Secretary General. It is kept by the Secretary General and it is to be available to the members.

9.8. Convocation

The Assembly of Delegates meets de jure once every four years, at its Registered Office or at a place indicated by the Secretary General at least six months before the date of the Assembly. The agenda must be set out in the written convocation, sent to all members three months before the stipulated date.

9.9. Extraordinary Assemblies of Delegates

Extraordinary Assemblies of Delegates may be called by the President or by the Board of Directors or upon a request in writing sent to the President and the Secretary General by one fifth of the members. The request should indicate the points to be included in the agenda.

10. The Board of Directors

10.1. Composition

The Association is managed by a Board of Directors composed of:

10.1.1. The President of SIGNIS

- (a) The President presides at the sessions of the Assembly of Delegates and the Board.
- (b) The President and the two Vice-Presidents constitute the Executive Committee of the Board.
- (c) The President is the official representative of SIGNIS to the Holy See and to all other organisations.
- (d) The election of the President will require ratification by the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life. (c. 317 § 1)

10.1.2. The two Vice-Presidents

- (a) The Vice-Presidents assist the President in his or her functions and substitute for him or her, if necessary, in order of precedence.
- (b) the Vice-Presidents constitute with the President the Executive Committee of the Board.

10.1.3. The Secretary General

- (a) The Secretary General attends meetings of the Board without the right to vote.
- (b) The Secretary General is responsible to the Board of Directors for the day-to-day management of the Association.

10.1.4. The General Treasurer

- (a) The Treasurer attends meetings of the Board without the right to vote.

- (b) The Treasurer is responsible for keeping the accounts, for preparing financial reports, for statements of account and budgets which will be submitted for approval to the Assembly of Delegates and, each year, to the Board.
- 10.1.5. (a) The two delegates from each regional group (or their substitutes), the first being the regional President and the second elected by the regional group
(b) The two delegates for the international organisations (or their substitutes), the first being the President and the second elected by the international organisations.
- 10.1.6. The Ecclesiastical Assistant
(a) The Ecclesiastical Assistant advises the Board of Directors on pastoral and theological matters.
(b) The Ecclesiastical Assistant has no voting rights.
(c) The Ecclesiastical Assistant is appointed for a term of four years and is eligible for only one further term of four years.
(d) The Ecclesiastical Assistant is named by the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life (cf. CIC, can. 317 § 1) on the basis of a list of at least three names presented three months before the end of the mandate of the preceding Ecclesiastical Assistant. Candidates must have received the previous agreement of their Ordinary.

10.2. Committees

The Board of Directors may appoint commissions or committees "ad tempus" or "ad opus" to deal with such matters as may be entrusted to them. It is the responsibility of the Board to appoint a Chairperson and a substitute for each commission or committee.

- 10.3. The Board of Directors meets at least twice during the interval between two Assemblies of Delegates. The necessary quorum is 50% of voting members. Each absent board member can give a proxy but each board member can only hold one proxy vote on behalf of an absent board member. The President has a casting vote.
- 10.4. The Board of Directors meets on convocation of the President or two members of the Board. Other meetings of the Board may be called upon the request of an absolute majority of members.
- 10.5. The decisions of the Board of Directors are kept in a record book signed by the President and the Secretary General. The Secretary General keeps it at the disposal of the members of the Association.
- 10.6. The Board of Directors has full administrative and operative power except for what is reserved to the Assembly of Delegates. It may delegate day-to-day administration to the Secretary General.
The Board has all power to manage and administer the Association and to realize its objectives subject to responsibilities incumbent under Book V of the Code of Canon

Law for ecclesiastical goods. It can, without this list being limiting, make or receive any payment, call in debts and give receipts; make and receive deposits; acquire, exchange, alienate or take on or lease, even for more than nine years, property or other assets; accept or give subventions both private and state; accept and make bequests and gifts; grant and conclude all contracts, deals and ventures; contract loans, with or without guarantees; give and accept waivers and securities; mortgage buildings; contract and set up loans and overdrafts; renounce any legal or material obligation as well as any guarantee both material or personal; give discharges, before or after payment, for any prior or mortgage charge, transcription, seizure or other constraint; plead whether as plaintiff or defendant before any jurisdiction, carry out court decisions, negotiate and conclude agreements.

The Board may delegate or give special and specific powers, regarding their objectives and duration, to one or more of its members or even to third parties. It will determine, if necessary, their remuneration.

- 10.7. Except when special powers are delegated, all the acts of the Board of Directors which commit the Association must be signed by two members of the Board who do not have to justify their powers to third parties. All acts of daily management, correspondence, the receipts or discharges against the management, the mail, telegraphs and other means of communication, will be valid with only one signature of one delegated Director, the Secretary General or a mandated person appointed by the Board.
- 10.8. It is the responsibility of the Board of Directors, represented by its President or by a Board member appointed by the President, to institute, prosecute and follow up court action, whether as claimant or defendant.
- 10.9. A member of the Board of Directors can lose his/her mandate by a decision of the Assembly of the Delegates taken with a two-thirds majority of the delegates present or represented.
- 10.10. The members of the Board of Directors are only responsible for the execution of their mandate. They have no personal obligations through their management regarding the commitments of the Association. The mandate of the Board members is on a voluntary basis and without remuneration.
- 10.11. Every year the Board of Directors must present an account of administration to the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life (cf. CIC, c. 319 § 1).

11. Amendment of the Statutes

- 11.1. SIGNIS' Statutes can be amended by the Assembly of the Delegates, except for the articles listed in 9.6.1 for which a vote of all members of the association is required.
- 11.2. Any proposal to amend the Statutes must come from the Board of Directors or from at least one third of all the full members of the Association. Amendments made to the statutes will be subject to the approval of the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life.
- 11.3. Where there is a proposal to amend the Statutes, the Board of Directors must bring this proposal to the attention of the members of the association at least three months before the date of the Assembly of Delegates that will vote on the proposal or the vote of all members (for articles listed in 9.6.1).
- 11.4. At least two-thirds of all members eligible to vote must be present or represented at the Assembly of Delegates or take part in the vote of all members to validly deliberate any amendment to the Statutes.

12. Dissolution

- 12.1. Any proposal to dissolve SIGNIS must be submitted to all members of the Association with voting rights during an Extraordinary Assembly.
- 12.2. Any proposal to dissolve the Association must come from the Board of Directors or from at least one third of all the members of the Association.
- 12.3. Before convoking the Extraordinary Assembly for dissolution, the Board of Directors must inform the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life and this Dicastery must give its prior approval. The Board must inform all members of the Association of a resolution to dissolve the association at least three months prior to the date of the Extraordinary Assembly. After a decision to dissolve has been taken, a decree of dissolution from the Dicastery for Laity, Family and Life will be required (c. 320 § 1).
- 12.4. At least two thirds of all members with voting rights must be present or represented at the Extraordinary Assembly to validly deliberate on the dissolution of the Association.
- 12.5. No decision to dissolve the Association will be valid unless voted by a majority of members and a majority of the votes of those delegates present or represented at the Assembly of Delegates.
- 12.6. If the vote of the members is different from the vote of the Assembly of Delegates, another Extraordinary Assembly will be convened. A two-thirds majority will be required.

- 12.7. If the Association is to be voluntarily dissolved, the Extraordinary Assembly shall appoint one or several liquidators, and define their power. The assets of the Association shall be donated to a Catholic international association recognised by the Holy See.

13. Legal References and Domicile Election

- 13.1. Anything which is not covered in the present Statutes will be governed by the by-laws adopted by the Assembly of Delegates.
- 13.2. The English version of the canonical statutes is the official text.
- 13.3. Notifications are sent to the legal address indicated by members. In the absence of communication of an alternative legal address, notifications are valid when addressed to members at SIGNIS' Administrative Offices.
